RFID

« Once the tag is fitted, each item of clothing has its own identity, and the information on the tag can be read remotely across the entire supply chain, all the way to the shop. »

Like any basic ensemble accessorized to enhance its style, Bolloré Logistics has expanded its range of services to include a unique and now essential accessory: the RFID (Radio Frequency IDentification) tag. This technological jewel - able to recover, memorize and exchange data - is combined with logistics services specially tailored to the fashion industry.

This technology makes all the difference in preventing handling errors or collecting a maximum amount of data in a minimum amount of time - whatever the volumes and whenever necessary.

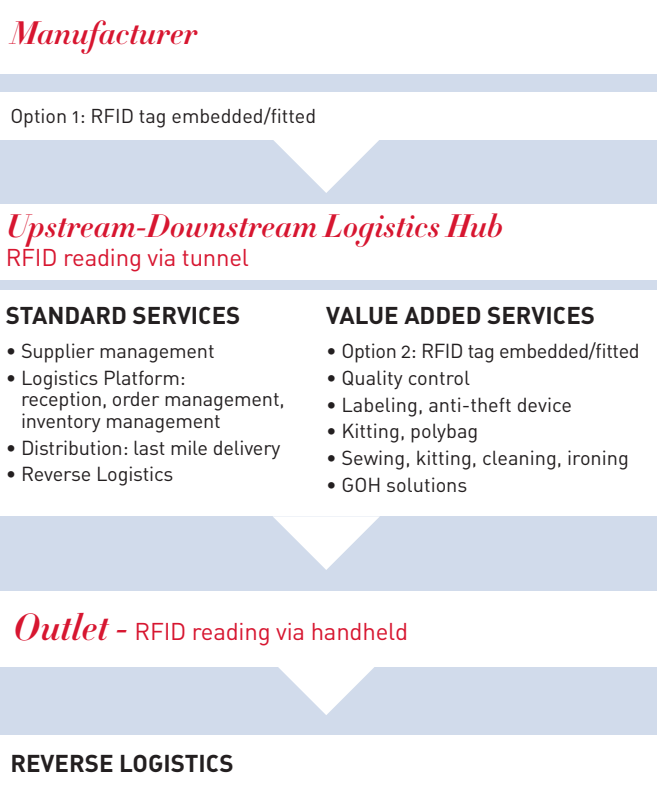

Embedded at the start of the chain at the point of manufacture or at a logistics hub by our teams, the tag can be placed, at the client's discretion, on a label or integrated in an anti-theft device.

TAILOR-MADE FROM HEAD TO TOE

Bolloré Logistics offers a wide range of made-to-measure services, all fitted to suit your needs and smarten your logistical performance.

High value-added logistics services

A creative, high-performance logistics chain

The iD Fashion solution also benefits from the Save Program, our environmental solution for measuring the carbon footprint linked to transport and reducing CO₂ emissions while optimizing the supply chain.

“IT” ACROSS THE LINE

iD Fashion is a « total look » solution that breathes new life into your entire logistics chain.

1 ALL ALONG THE SUPPLY CHAIN

This simplified solution, which offers sector-specific transport and logistics services, coupled with overall and item-by-item inventory visibility, guarantees:

- The fitting and encoding of the RFID tag at the point of manufacture or at the logistics hub thanks to the proximity of our network.
- Time savings and improved reliability at every step of the logistics chain.
- Traceability for every item, helping the fight against counterfeiting.
- Integration of data flows in either our system or yours, depending on the option chosen: transport and logistics traceability or global supply chain management by our teams.

2 AT OUTLETS

Higher in-store revenue is generated on various levels:

- Supplier performance tracking and a positive impact on product quality.
- Time savings, increased reliability of product reception and inventories.
- Optimized inventory management: efficient stocking and restocking, reduced supply cycle.
- Decreased shrinkage.

“ Meaning that, at the end of the chain, the customer is always more satisfied. ”

3 FOR THE END CONSUMER

The time saved thanks to iD Fashion is reinvested in customer relations. Customer loyalty is increased by building a positive brand image.

FASHION.

An idea, a sketch, a needle and thread... fashion emerges as the creative process takes shape. Then comes the patchwork of stages that bring each article of clothing to the end buyer. That's where the iD Fashion solution comes into play. Step by step, iD Fashion is at your side, weaving together a range of possibilities to optimize the overall efficiency of the logistics chain.

iD
FASHION

Inventing and re-inventing codes to make sure you never go unnoticed is the basic philosophy of any fashion designer. Bolloré Logistics also follows this philosophy.

The iD Fashion solution combines technology and service to redesign and recreate the major lines of today's supply chains.
